PREFACE TO THE BECKORD - WULFEKUEHLER GENEALOGY.

While working on the genealogy or "family tree" it seemed best to write a little about a few of the related immigrants.

My father, "Fritz" Beckord, came to Leavenworth, Kansas in 1872, from Germany. His uncle, a Schildmann, suggested that he go there where the uncle's friend would help him to find employment in a furniture factory. My father's vocation was that of a cabinet maker.

My mother, "Minna" Wulfekuhler, came to Leavenworth with a Cousin, William Wulfekuhler and his wife Louise, in 1867. This couple had just spent two years in Germany where mother had heard this cousin whistle the old tune "My Old Kentucky Home."

Fritz and Minna met at a party in Leavenworth. Later on, he moved to Nebraska City to work in a furniture factory. Hearing about opportunities farther west, he went to Seward, Nebraska where he opened up a furniture store and had his wife-to-be come from Leavenworth in 1876. They were married in the Middle Creek Lutheran Church near Seward.

The Railroad was being extended to York, so they sold their interest in the furniture to John Kribbler and the Beckords moved to Utica in 1877 and started the third place of business there - a lumber yard.

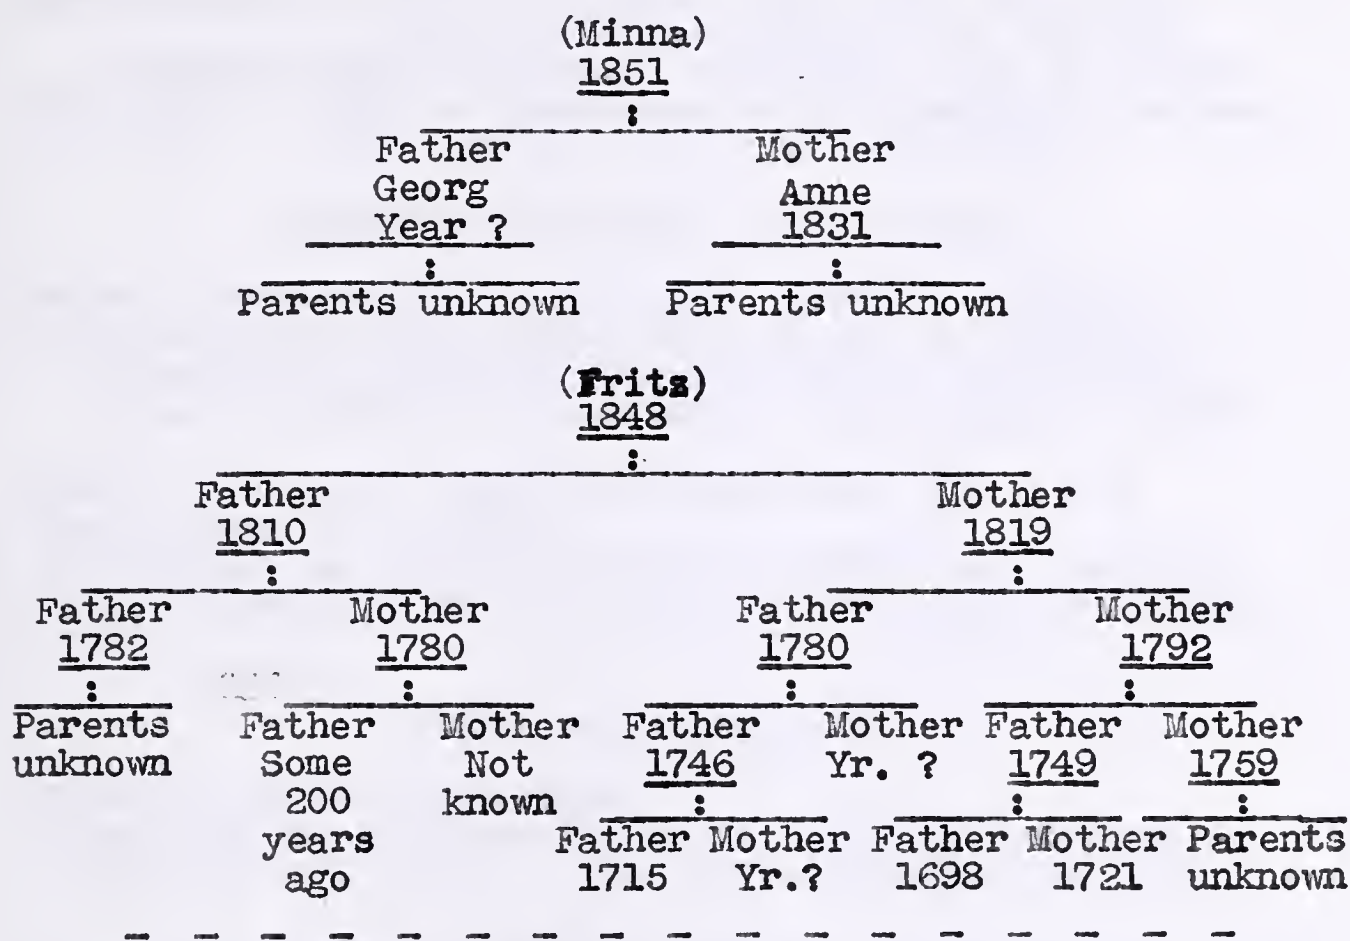

When Fritz Beckord's mother was dying, he promised her that he would look after his youngest brother Robert; so had him come to America in 1877 with Fritz Goehner of Seward, Nebraska. Uncle Robert made his home with the brother and wife. He went to the public and parochial schools and assisted in the lumber yard. Later, another yard was started in Waco, Nebraska.

LET'S USE THIS CODE: b - born; dd - died;
m - married; ch - children; s - son; d - daughter.

In 1908, Fritz (my father), brother Martin and I visited the Altstater Church in Bielefeld which father had attended in his youth. This church, with the records of Fritz, two of his brothers and a sister, all born before 1854, were later destroyed by World War II bombs. We have since learned that their names were Heinrich August Kaspar, Julius Heinrich and Johanna Christine. The records of the remaining children's names were supplied by the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Brackwede in 1950, as listed at the top of the next page, as follows:

"Other children are not recorded here. Their names may be in other congregations. When Hanne Christina Beckord passed away, the record states that her husband, three sons, one daughter and a minor son are survivors. When Johann Heinrich Beckord passed away, the sons are survivors. In the meantime no Beckord deaths are recorded, therefore they are in another congregation. Sorry we cannot give you more information." - Signed by E. Nagel. (Above is a translation)

EPKE DESCENDENTS

My grandmother, Catherine Wilhelmine Charlotte Sunderwerth Wulfekuhler, was widowed in 1865. She then married her widowed, childless brother-in-law Heinrich Wilhelm Epke, Aschendorf farmer, who was born December 29, 1807. After he died she left Germany with her Epke children, and arrived in Utica, Nebraska, May 4, 1886.

NOTE: * #19, by Westphalia custom, Piele used his wife's name. Her name was Schild. Her farm, or Hof, was named after her. Piele was the "Man of the Schild" and chose to use the name Schildmann.

 #28, Wedekamper, somehow used "Sunderwerth." Later, #34, Kombrink, married another Sunderwerth and took over that name.

As this is a very important record, it is hoped that each copy will be cherished and preserved for use by our future generations.

I offer a very grateful "thank you" to each one who supplied so much documentation that helped me to compile this genealogy. Also for the typing and copying which made the distribution of it possible.

Yours for many pleasant revelations,
